BY THEIR MOST OBEDIENT HUMBLE SERVANT,

GEORGE FOWLER.

A D D R E S S .

G. FOWLER, in presenting to the public the Eleventh Edition of the Directory, returns his sincere thanks to those who have supported this Work hitherto.

As the chief value of a work of this kind consists in accuracy of detail, and distinctness of arrangement, the present Publisher has in this, as in all his former Editions of the Directory, spared neither labour nor expense in securing these; and as the compilation of a work of this kind is attended with a very great degree of labour, and not a little expense, which can only be compensated by an extensive sale of the Work, he trusts he will meet with a suitable degree of encouragement from a discerning public.

The Lists and Tables inserted in the appendixes will be found of the most useful description, and suitable not only to the Merchant and Trader, but to the Public generally—a Directory being not only a useful, but a highly necessary repository for enabling a commercial people to become acquainted with each other.

The Publisher could not help observing, in the course of his survey for this Edition of the Directory, that many of the numbers of the houses, &c., are either partially or wholly obliterated, and that many of the old numbers, which ought to have been obliterated when the houses were numbered on the present plan, are still visible—a circumstance that is apt to mislead or create confusion. He would, therefore, take the liberty of calling the attention of the Police Commissioners, and of Proprietors, Shopkeepers, &c., to these defects, with a recommendation to have them speedily rectified, that being essential to the convenience of strangers, and no less so to the safe and prompt delivery of letters and packages, in which every class of the inhabitants, but especially the Mercantile and Manufacturing classes, are interested; and is, in fact, an incumbent duty on the Police to see carried into effect.

All Communications, post-paid, will be duly attended to.

 ORDERS RECEIVED FOR EVERY NEW PERIODICAL PUBLICATION.

TO

FOWLER'S PAISLEY DIRECTORY.

Population of Paisley within the bounds specified in the Reform Act, according to the Census in 1841, 48,908.

The above is the amount of Population within the Parliamentary Boundary of the Town. This is the first Census that has been taken since the Boundary was fixed. The present cannot therefore be well contrasted with any prior Census. But the amount of Population, as nearly as can be computed within what is now the Parliamentary Boundary of the Town, was in 1831, 46,199, which makes an increase of Population since that period of 2,203 persons.

If, however, the number of persons absent at sea-bathing quarters and otherwise, and strangers present on the night of the 6th of June, are taken into account, the Population would stand thus:—

Persons in Paisley on the night of the 6th of June, 48,416

The Post Office do not convey packages exceeding 16 ounces in weight inland, except in the case of Parliamentary papers, and other privileged documents. The above are the charges on all letters posted and delivered in the United Kingdom, without regard to distance; and there is no difference in the case of letters posted and delivered within the boundaries of the old Penny Post offices in towns. The rate of postage is affected by the weight entirely, and not by the number of sheets or inclosures.

In the case of East India letters, this rate applies only to those passing by the Falmouth packets, and thence overland, and not to those passing in the first place through France. There is no limitation to any particular weight.

MONEY ORDERS.

The most secure mode of transmitting Bank Notes, Bank Post Bills or Drafts, is to divide each and send the halves by different posts, waiting the acknowledgment of the one half before forwarding the other.

Coin should not be sent by post, and persons having occasion to transmit small sums, will avoid all risk by sending the money through the medium of the Money Order Office, which is carried on by the Post Office on the public account. The charge for such orders will be threepence on sums of Two Pounds and under, and sixpence on sums between Two and Five Pounds. No order will be given for sums beyond this amount. To avoid trouble, it must be understood that the party in whose favour the order is drawn must attend personally to receive it.

STATIONS.

3d Do. at Mr. Maxwell's, Merksworth, (Lost)

DIRECTIONS

For the recovery of the apparently drowned or dead,

BY THE PAISLEY HUMANE SOCIETY.

IN APPARENT DEATH three objects are constantly to be kept in view; 1st, to remove every hurtful cause; 2d, to regulate the temperature of the body; 3d, to restore breathing. For these purposes the following directions may be usefully employed, till medical assistance arrive, which ought instantly to be sent for in every case.

In a case of drowning.

Remove as quickly as possible all wet clothes from the body, dry it well, wrap it in any warm woollen covering, and convey it, with the head and breast moderately raised, to the nearest house, where none but useful assistance ought to be admitted. Let the body now be laid in a warm bed, or upon a warm blanket near a fire, but not exposed to a strong heat. Let the lost heat be restored by rubbing the surface with warm cloths or hands, by wrapping a piece of warm flannel or blanketing round the waist, and by applying warm substances, first and chiefly to the trunk and head, next to the limbs.

The most convenient for this purpose are bottles or flasks filled with warm water, and bags or stockings filled with hot grain, chaff, bran, salt, or sand. Large glysters of warm water should also be exhibited. To restore the breathing, let a person firmly compress the nostrils with the fingers of one hand, then apply his mouth across the mouth of the body, and blow forcibly; let him now lift his head, and the air will escape. This operation is to be commenced as soon as possible, and continued till natural breathing return, or till the case appear hopeless. If water in the mouth and nostrils prevent inflation of the lungs, it ought to be discharged by blowing into the mouth while the nostrils are left open.

In a case of strangling.

Remove everything tight from the neck and breast, then proceed to inflate the lungs and restore heat, as directed above.

In a case of suffocation from impure air.

Admit fresh air, inflate the lungs, and if the body be cold, restore heat as directed above; if, as sometimes happens, it be warmer than naturally, reduce the heat by dashing the head, neck, and breast, smartly with cold water.

In a case of appurent death from lightning.

Besides using the same means as for suffocation, give large glysters of salt and water, and use friction over the whole body.

In a case of apparent death from intense cold.

Avoid placing the body at first near the fire; use friction rather than apply heat for a time; in other respects act as for drowning.

In a case of excessive intoxication.

If the breathing be suspended, act as for drowning; give large glysters of salt and water, endeavour to bring up the contents of the stomach by tickling the throat with feathers; for the same purpose, when the power of swallowing is restored, give copious draughts of warm water.

To prevent death from loss of blood.

If from a wound, apply firm pressure to the wound by the finger or a small pad, till medical assistance can be procured. If from a limb, twist a handkerchief tightly round the limb, nearer to the heart than the wound. If fainting has taken place, lay the patient in the recumbent position, apply hartshorn to the nostrils. If the bleeding is from an internal part, apply cold wet cloths, and avoid all stimulants.

PARLIAMENTARY BOUNDARIES.

By the bill to regulate the boundaries of Scotch towns, returning, or joining to return Members to Parliament, under the new regime, the following are the boundaries assigned to Paisley and Renfrew. They are certainly ample, and will not be complained of as cutting too closely on the outskirts.

PAISLEY.

From the summit of Byres Hill, on the north-east of the Town in a straight line to the point near Knockhill, at which the Renfrew road is joined by a road from Glasgow ; thence in a straight line to the summit of Knockhill ; thence in a straight line to the northern gable of the Moss toll house on the Greenock road ; thence in a straight line in the direction of the chimney of Linwood cotton mill to the point at which such straight line cuts the Candren burn ; thence up the Candren burn to the point at which the same is joined by the Braidiland burn at the bridge over the same on the Johnstone road ; thence up the Braidiland burn to a point which is distant five hundred yards (measured along the Braidiland burn) above the said bridge ; thence in a straight line to Meikle-ridge bridge over the Candren burn ; thence in a straight line to the point at which the old Neilson road leaves the new Neilston road ; thence in a straight line to the summit of Dykebar hill ; thence in a straight line to a point which is one hundred yards due north-east of the summit of Bathgo hill ; thence in a straight line to the first described.

RENFREW.

From the Milburn bridge over the Pudzeoch burn on the Glasgow road in a straight line to a point up the Pudzeoch burn, which is distant three hundred yards in a straight line from the said bridge ; thence in a straight line to a point on the Greenock road, which is distant two hundred and fifty yards, (measured along the Greenock road) from the point at which the same leaves the Paisley road ; thence in a straight line to a point in the river Clyde, which is distant three hundred yards (measured along the river Clyde) below the point at which the same is joined by the Canal ; thence along the river Clyde to the point at which the same is joined by the Canal ; thence along the Canal to the point at which the same is joined by the Pudzeoch burn : thence along the Pudzeoch burn to the bridge aforesaid.

AN

HISTORICAL AND DESCRIPTIVE SKETCH

OF

FEW places in Britain exhibit so striking an illustration of the effect of manufactures in originating and increasing towns, in attracting, condensing, and augmenting population, as does this thriving seat of business. Sixty years ago, near that bridge over the Black Cart which till lately gave to the place the popular appellation "Brig of Johnstone," merely a few cottages were to be seen, where now is a town, consisting of two large squares, many considerable streets, and numerous public works, with a population of about 7000 souls.

It is probable that the town of Johnstone never would have existed, or at most would have been confined to the few cottages that stuck upon the ground near to the Brig, had not the late public-spirited Laird of Johnstone, by his influence and example, excited a spirit of industry among its inhabitants, and cherished and supported it by his fatherly care and protection, and, we are happy to say, that the seed has been sown in good ground, as it continues to manifest itself by the increasing wealth and prosperity of the enlightened and enterprising merchants and traders belonging to the place.

Towards the end of October 1782, nine houses of the New Town of Johnstone had been built, two others were building, and ground on which forty-two more were to be built had been leased. In 1792 the inhabitants were 1434 in number; in 1811, 3,647; in 1818, by computation 5,000. As the introduction of the manufacture of cotton yarn by mill-machinery led to the founding of Johnstone, so has the extension of the same manufacture caused its rapid increase, and present prosperity. There are now within the precincts of the place 15 cotton mills of varied extent, some propelled by water, others by steam, besides a flax mill and a weaving factory; also, Elderslie and Linwood mills, in the neighbourhood of Johnstone, making in all 20 mills.

There are also in the town two brass foundries, and two extensive iron foundries; five machine manufactories, and a public gas work.

Johnstone is very regularly laid out. Besides Houstoun square in the centre of the town, which is now built on every side, there is to the southward a large area, meant for a second square, as well as a market place, and which is also now beginning to be built round with neat houses. High street, extending from the Bridge of Johnstone on the west, to Dick's Bridge (or Canal Bridge) on the east, is closely built; as are several other streets branching at right angles from both its sides. It is in length 3 furlongs, 36 poles. The houses are for the most part two stories high, substantially constructed, and roofed with slates, and all of them have gardens. The shops are numerous, and well stocked with cheap, various, and excellent commodities.

Besides the Chapel of Ease, (an octagonal fabric, to which, about 19 years ago, a neat spire, after a design of Sir Christopher Wren, was added.) Johnstone contains a United Secession Church, a Relief Church, and a Methodist chapel: also, one of the Free Churches of Scotland, and Sir William Wallace's Church at Elderslie in connection with the Establishment.

In Johnstone are also a Subscription Library, two News Rooms, a Mechanics' Institution and Library, sundry Religious and Friendly Societies, various Sunday Schools, &c.—The Ardrossan Canal from Glasgow, terminates in a basin at the east end of the town, to the advantage of which it greatly contributes; and the Glasgow and Ayr Railway passes immediately to the south of the town, having a station immediately to the east of it. A coach runs once a-day from Houstoun to Paisley Railway station by Bridge of Weir, Crosslie, Johnstone, and Elderslie; and twice a-day from Johnstone to Paisley station.

The names of the streets of Johnstone, and the numbers of the houses in each, were formerly distinctly marked; but at present, these are in a great measure obliterated, which is not to be wondered at, the original markings having been made so long ago as the year 1828. This was done at the suggestion and under the superintendence of the present compiler, as were also those of Pollockshaws, Port-Glasgow, Greenock, Gourock, and Largs; and even those of Paisley on its present improved plan. There can be little doubt that the spirited inhabitants of Johnstone will see the propriety, not to say the necessity, of having this defect speedily supplied—an arrangement so very useful not only in guiding strangers to the different parts of the town, but also for enabling traders and correspondents to direct letters and parcels to their proper destinations. Indeed it would be well if every town and village in the kingdom had similar arrangements.

The southern neighbourhood of this place is greatly beautified by Johnstone Castle, a stately mansion, after the antique, situated among extensive pleasure grounds and valuable plantations. A similarly ornamental effect is produced by the house and pleasure grounds of Milliken to the westward of the town. The former is the seat of Ludovic Houstoun, Esq. of Johnstone; the latter, that of Sir William Milliken Napier, Bart.

The appearance of the east end of the town is not a little enriched by the house of Thornhill and its appendages, lately built by Campbell Snodgrass, Esq. on a pleasant eminence which commands an advantageous view not only of the town and the surrounding country, but also of several distant counties.

At Elderslie, 2 miles, 4 furlongs, 17 poles distant from Paisley, and 1 mile, 1 furlong, 17 poles from Johnstone, stands Wallace's tree, a venerable and scathed oak, which, by tradition, is said once to have been the hiding place of our truly chivalrous Scottish patriot, when closely pursued by bands of Southrons. A short distance from the tree, upon an eminence, the house that gave birth to Sir William Wallace is affirmed by the same authority once to have stood; and various names still given to some circumjacent places certainly corroborate the tradition.

FAIRS.

Johnstone Cross, nearly opposite to the Black Bull, (Head Inn) is distant from the Cross of Paisley, 3 miles, 5 furlongs, 34 poles.

Fairs are held on the Thursday following the second Monday of July and the last Thursday of October, for cattle; also, on the last Friday of December for horses.

Although this market is not generally known, being but lately established, yet, from the excellent supply of cattle brought forward, it promises to be one of the most numerous attended Fairs in the West of Scotland. The market place is spacious and very extensive, affording accommodation rarely to be met with.

No person shall be permitted to ply or work on the streets of Paisley for hire, as a Porter, without first entering his name and place of residence, in a book for the purpose, in the Town Clerk's Chamber, and without giving bond for the faithful and honest discharge of his duty, under such penalty as to the Magistrates shall seem proper, and without having a Badge or Ticket containing his number.

Persons wishing to be admitted as Porters, must apply to the Magistrates, by petition, stating their place of nativity, age, residence, and former employments, and produce satisfactory certificates as to character. On being admitted, and before being allowed to ply, each Porter must implement the above enactment, and he shall thereafter strictly conform to, and observe the following Regulations:—

1st. He shall renew his Bond at the expiry of three years, and on the decease of the Cautioner, or his removal from the Town; which decease and removal he shall, within eight days, intimate in writing to the Town Clerk, and he shall also, in the same manner, and within the said time, intimate his own removal or change of residence.

2d. He shall wear his Badge or Ticket conspicuously on the left breast of his coat, which Badge shall be of brass, and have inscribed the words _____ and the Number _____ in the order of his admission, and he shall also have a transcript of said inscription painted legibly on the right side of his barrow or hurley.

3d. He shall not, when unengaged, refuse employment when offered, whether on his station or not; and if he alledge previous engagement, he shall, when required, specify the nature and time of his engagement.

4th. He shall not demand higher fares than those specified in the subjoined Table; a copy of which Table, with these Regulations, and also a small plan of the Town, divided into Sections of half a mile, he shall always have in his possession, and produce to persons employing him when required.

5th. No Porter shall appear on his station intoxicated. All Porters are prohibited from standing on the pavement, or crossings, to the obstruction or annoyance of the lieges; as also from smoking, when upon their stations, or in any manner giving offence. In general, they are enjoined to conduct themselves orderly among themselves, and discreetly towards the public.

6th. Porters contravening, or not conforming to these Regulations, will subject themselves to a penalty not exceeding thirty shillings, which penalty shall be awarded, and the Regulations enforced in a summary manner by the Sitting Magistrate, who may dismiss from said employment, and deprive of their Badge such as shall offend.

THE ADVANTAGES offered by this Company to parties Assuring will be found equal to those held out by any other Office.

THE ASSURED are protected by the intervention of a large subscribed Capital ; and those individuals Assuring on the Participation Scheme, have the WHOLE SURPLUS of the Assurance Fund of that Department divided among themselves, in proportion to the sum assured, and the number of yearly premiums that have been paid.

A CERTAIN Sum may be assured at a lower rate of premium, without any additions being made to the policies.

IN NO case is Entry-Money required.

DEPOSIT ASSURANCE.

The Directors have much pleasure in announcing that they have now completed the arrangements for adopting the system of DEPOSIT ASSURANCE. The following example will serve to show the great convenience that is to be derived in adopting this principle in Life Assurance.

A party aged 30 deposits £100 with the Company, which entitles him to a policy on his life for £290, and upon this deposit of £100, he may at any time operate (to within ten per cent. of the principal), in a similar manner to a Bank account, without reducing the original sum insured, 4 per cent. interest being payable yearly on the money drawn from the account ; and when the policy becomes a claim, the full sum assured will be paid to his Representatives, under deduction of any balance of the original premium and interest that may remain unpaid.

Prospectuses, and all farther information, may be obtained at the Offices of the Company,

WILLIAM HUNTER, Manager.

CALEDONIAN INSURANCE COMPANY,

INCORPORATED BY ROYAL CHARTER.

ESTABLISHED IN 1805.

Head-Office—19 George Street, Edinburgh.

This successful Institution, the first Proprietary Office in Scotland, begs to call the attention of all parties connected with Friendly and other Societies to the importance of Life Insurance, and to the benefits to be derived from joining an Established Company like this, in preference to connecting themselves with societies whose rates of contribution, in many instances, are inadequate to meet the claims which ultimately come upon them.

Policies, for instance, insuring £20 on a life of thirty next birth-day, may be obtained from this Company by an annual payment of 8s. 10d., and so on in proportion. If a share of the Profits of the Company is desired, the Premium is 10s.

Policies on Single Lives effected to the extent of £5000.

At the last investigation a Bonus of from Six to Eleven per Cent. on the Sum Insured on all Policies of Five Years' standing and upwards was declared.

NOTE.—Policies taken out before the 31st May next, on the Participating Scale, obtain a year's advantage over those taken out afterwards.

The same Premium which is paid to a Mutual Assurance Society to secure £1000, will in this Company secure £1160.

Premiums are payable Yearly, Half-yearly, or Quarterly.

Five-sixths of the Profits (a larger proportion than most Offices allow) are ultimately divided among the Participating Policy Holders.

No Entrance-Money is charged.

One-third of the whole Life Premiums is allowed to remain as a Debt against the Policy.

Bonuses are added to Policies, or paid in present Money, or Annual Premiums are reduced.

Liberal Allowances given for Surrenders.

These and other advantages given by the Company, cannot be warrantably exceeded by any other Insurance Institution whatever.

Tables of Rates will be obtained at this Office.

FIRE INSURANCE.

FIRE INSURANCES of every description are effected at very moderate terms.

No expense in transferring Policies from other Offices.

Fire Department.

RETURNS—The Directors request reference to the fact, that TWENTY PER CENT. was returned by this Company on the amount of Premiums paid for the Five Years up to Christmas, 1841, on all Policies for £300 and upwards, which had been in force for one year at that time.

The next periodical Accounts for Returns will be made up to Christmas 1846.

RENT.—This Office (independent of the Returns and the late Reduction in the Rates of Premium), offers to persons effecting Assurances, the further advantage of an allowance for the loss of RENT ON BUILDINGS rendered untenable by Fire.

Life Department.

The attention of the Public has, in the Advertisements and Proposals of this Company of late years, been called to a Table of Additions applicable to and expectant on Policies of particular dates and ages; the Directors now beg to refer to a Statement (which may be obtained on application at the Office in Cheapside, or to any of the Agents in the Country) of Sums ACTUALLY PAID, showing the Sums respectively assured and the Bonuses thereon.

Persons assured for the whole term of Life in GREAT BRITAIN or IRELAND respectively, will have an ADDITION made to their Policies every seventh year, or an equivalent REDUCTION in the future payments of Premium, at the option of the Assured.

The FOURTH SEPTENNIAL VALUATION will be made up to Christmas 1844.

ASSURANCES FOR SHORT PERIODS may now be effected in this Office at considerably reduced rates of Premium.

The Company's Rates and Proposals may be had at the Office in London, or of any of the Agents in the Country, WHO ARE AUTHORISED TO REPORT ON THE APPEARANCE OF LIVES PROPOSED FOR ASSURANCE.

PREVENTION AND ONLY CURE FOR CORNS.

EBENEZER WEIR,
BOOT TREE AND LAST MAKER,
63, Neilson Street, Glasgow,

ENCOURAGED by the very flattering support he has received for several years past in the making of special BOOT and SHOE LASTS for Ladies and Gentlemen, to suit the various peculiarities of their feet, and from the many testimonials he has received from his Customers of the comfort they have enjoyed ever since having Lasts made expressly for themselves, begs respectfully to announce, that he will now make it a still more prominent part of his Business.

It is well known that Corns are invariably occasioned by unequal pressure arising from Boots and Shoes not being made to suit the peculiarities of the feet, and that, however cleverly extracted by Corn-Doctors, the cause that produced them once will produce them again. E. Weir's mode of making Lasts, however, completely supersedes this difficulty, as he makes proper allowance on the Lasts for the part affected, so that there can be no pressure, and, of course, no pain; and, by this means, in a very short time the Corn imperceptibly disappears, and is replaced by soft flesh, like any other part of the foot. If, in any instance, Boots or Shoes made from his Lasts do not fit, or fail to give satisfaction in every particular, E. W. binds himself to forfeit the price of the article, and make other Lasts without any additional charge.

Parties residing in the Country, by forwarding a Boot or Shoe that has got the proper form of the Foot, can be fitted accordingly.

P.S.—Having a very large stock of well-seasoned material for Lasts, Boot Trees, and every article in the above line, he will warrant the following articles to be of the best description, and in the newest fashion :—

In the Manures, his experience as a practical Chemist, enables him to hold out advantages to purchasers possessed by few dealing in this commodity.

ENGLISH PATENT ASPHALTE PAVEMENT.

ROBERT ORR, BUILDER,

24, STORIE STREET,

Agent for Paisley.

ROBERT ORR, in returning thanks for the numerous Orders he has received for the above Composition Pavement, respectfully intimates, that owing to improved facilities in its manufacture, he is able to lay it down at a very moderate rate. It can be laid down at a cheaper rate than any Stone Pavement, and lasts longer than some qualities of three times its price. It is also well adapted for Cellars, Back Courts, &c., and effectually prevents the bad effects of dampness. Without saying more with reference to its durability, it will only be necessary to mention, that the West Pavement of the Broomielaw Bridge, Glasgow, is laid with the same Composition, and has stood the test of a vast amount of tear and wear in a satisfactory manner. The Bazaar in Glasgow is also laid with it—in fact, all Public Bodies are adopting it for their Buildings. Specimens in Paisley may be seen at the Community's Property, Cross; at Provost Henderson's, 15, High Street, and many other parts of the town.

R. O. wishes it distinctly understood, that he is the Sole Agent in Paisley for the
